Question for Rosie

I've been a long time listener of Rosie's show and only work off of the home referral list as I've had nothing but great experiences each time I've used one of the listed contractors. But I must single out one as simply outstanding: East Valley Floors. Von and his team are probably the best home improvement team I've ever had in my home (and I've had a lot over the years so am not unaccustomed to dealing with contractors and home improvement people). From start to finish there were no surprises...I knew everything to expect from the initial estimate to demo to finish. Every person who works for EVF are just great to work with from Von the owner, the demo team, to Luis, the master floor installer. The end result were gorgeous floors and one happy homeowner. Thank you, Rosie for having this outstanding business listed on your site and to Von and his people for making a large home improvement project a great experience.
